"Re: Death Stations Addendum" Is it going up?

Dear Editors or Individuals responding.

Did the Addendum scare you guys, or did you even get it? If you have not gotten it, don't trip. I got my research notes.

Argument for "Death Stations": Addendum to "Re: Revelation
13:15-17"

The meteorite that impacted the earth triggering the Ice Age and dinosaur extinction could have very well did two things: 1). Put the serpent on it's belly (retro-evolution) as alleged in Genesis, and 2). Froze the planet and cooled off the caulderns defects "freezing" them. This could have condensed water, separated sulfur, and created silicates (soil). Enoch 66:1-15 did state the alleged "Lake of Fire" was frozen. Freezing a cauldern is not like freezing simple water.
That would place Enoch just after the planet started to thaw out allowing for mammalian life and Man to start repopulating the Earth.
But, there had to be one "rescue mission" prior to
